it my way or
can backfire

Now the nation's hospitals Friday was indeed
 medical opinions an Associated Press story Miami, Fla., which then goes on to report missing paper work, missing forms, bewildered patients, lost medicare cards, and one woman got mad and swung her purse at a hospital staff.

It's not that the medicare program is off to a start and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare through unauthorized spending or is compounding the problems.

These troubles are in addition to objections by opponents of the program. The possibility of the program unnecessarily overcrowding our hospitals and taxing our doctors and nurses, the so-called in-districts allegation that medicare would suffer, these and similar dooms have yet had a chance to raise their havoc.
 The horrendous picture in some areas is the result of administrative decisions.

The more publicized has been the "guinea pig" of HEW under Title VI. We do not understand these regulations or their purpose but apparently HEW underlings take the same position that notwithstanding any delegation of authority to a hospital must make an effort to integrate semi-private rooms, not even with the Civil Rights law prohibiting discrimination because of color. In Hancock General's case approval appears to have been held in part, because the hospital had been 40 smaller per cent of Negro patients than the group constituted of the county's population.

It doesn't matter that patient's are admitted by doctors not the hospital, that no Negro has been turned down by the hospital, that for cost reasons many local Negroes go to New Orleans' clinics, and that maybe during the period there hasn't been many ill Negroes.

The attitude of HEW appears to be typified by its head in Atlanta, Ga. This clerical according to the Associated Press, stomped, and let off a verbal blast at the idea that Senator or U. S. Senator should be permitted to over his head on a decision. This attitude alone is he is incorer, to exercise authority or make decisions.
 He has many
 him,
 may be one of his Office of Equal Opportunity and Health
 last Thursday (Medicare became operative Friday) wired Tallahatchie Hospital, Charleston, rescinding with no
 given all its previous letters of acceptance.
 Hospital, where Hancock General's prior administrator, Thomas O. Logue, is now administrator, was approved after an inspection three days ago.

A second major problem vis a vis hospitals and also stems from autocratic bureaucracy
 but also money is involved. HEW will not approve under medicare for charges according to hospital's rate schedule. That's allright for a patient but not for the medicare one.
 businesses, particularly utilities and hospital services are below actual cost and others a profit is made. Typically the of a hospital bed, emergency room and for treatment is below cost, while a profit is in work, and overall the hospital loses its accepted and routine fee procedure does not apply. No individual service can be billed for more than the actual cost.

We do not understand the details, the not required hospitals receiving payments from HEW patients must finance a cost analysis
 to HEW, bill for medicare on that basis,
 make their charges to paying patients and let the paying patients pay extra for the of medicare. In any event, the multitudinous power will increase the hospital's costs added to your and my hospital bill.

Officials admit that this obligation is well and expect that in time they think HEW's will be modified to meet much of the Until then they say: do it our way or won't buy. A crowded hospital may well say: do way or we can't take your patients. While Hancock General presently holds 2 patients because of acute shortage of nurses for that reason could take this view.

The Crosby Memorial Hospital in Picayune has done just that. Some time ago its board

Money-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—One reason President Johnson delayed the launching of all defense cuts outside Hawaii and Macau was an intelligence report which claimed there was little chance it would bring intervention by Red China.

This report, from the US intelligence center in Hong Kong, said that the current purge in Peking is far more severe than has been suspected.

Thousands of intellectuals have been shipped off to the factories and communes to do hard labor. Both the Peiping and Shanghai party organizations have been turned upside down. Marshal Lin Piao, in emerging as the new strong man, has tightened military, police, Armed patrols are roaming the streets of Peking and Shanghai.

The most ominous news has come from Barbara, where Premier Chou En-lai is reported to have told his Russians how grimly that the purge would wipe out the habits and customs of a thousand years.

It will be clear from what the outcome of the Peking purge will be—whether moderation or extremism will win the day. But while the struggle is going on, our intelligence estimate is that Red Chinese officials are far more concerned about what's happening in their own country than in Viet Nam.

One last try

Before the President made his decision, he had made another attempt to persuade North Viet Nam to come to the bargaining table.

He sent a message that the United States was ready to desist in the war, as the first step toward a truce, if North Viet Nam would reciprocate.

Specifically, he offered to reduce the bombing in return for a withdrawal of some North Vietnamese who from South Viet Nam.

The message was delivered to Hanoi by veteran Comedian Chet Baker, who reported back that the communists refused to budge. It was after this that Johnson signed up the bombing.

Secretary General U Thant of the U.N. immediately said that Ho Chi Minh will never make peace as long as we are building air and naval bases in South Viet Nam calculated to last fifty years. The North Vietnamese figure we plan to occupy the South for at least fifty years, to regard any offer of peace talk as a mere trick.

"A Conservative View"

by James J. Killpatrick

WASHINGTON: Just before Congress went into holiday recess, the Senate's Select Committee on Standards and Conduct completed four days of hearings in the case of Senator Thomas J. Dodd.

This was, in effect, a trial. The charge, in effect, was that Dodd had acted corruptly in his relations with Lobbyist Julius Klein. If one applied the usual rule in such cases, that a defendant is entitled to reasonable doubt, the verdict has to be "not guilty."

Weighted by the standards that apply to other men in public life, the charges against Tom Dodd held down to trifles. The evidence to support most of them was flimsy; in two instances the evidence was nonexistent. The senator's conduct may have been in some respects unbecoming, but it was not, on the record, criminal.

The evidence disclosed that General Klein, a registered lobbyist for several West German accountants, made two contributions to Dodd's campaign for the Senate—$750 in 1958, $250 in 1964. In the language of Senator Dodd's campaign staff, this is "popcorn money," since his insignificant. It did not go to Dodd directly. This was paid.

Mr. Marjorie Carpenter, the senator's former personal secretary, testified that a trip to Germany was arranged for Senator Dodd in April of 1964, just when he was needed by the administration in the civil rights debate, only to be turned down by General Klein's campaign staff. The senator's defense was that he had gone to Germany as a member of the Internal Security sub-committee, only to interview some of the principal figures in the socialist cause of East Germany, defected Soviet members.

The senator's defense was unconvincing, but the charge against him was not proved. Beyond question, Klein wanted Dodd to provide him to the citizens; he was hoping for favor like a special for a base. Yet the evidence showed that Dodd ignored the advice, remained in the base, and instead, continued to the socialist members of the Internal Security sub-committee.

On city water system

Extra crews to quicken pace

A promise to put on more crews and increase production to complete the job by Aug. 15 was extracted from George Conigliaro, the city's water system operator, at a special meeting here Wednesday afternoon at City Hall.

George Conigliaro officials agreed to a plan to step up highway and coordinate their work, under the direction with city engineers, Mayor John St. Louis and City Attorney Sam L. Fagan, Jr., Commissioner of Utilities J. Cyril Glover said the agreement was to be put in writing.

Glover said that George Conigliaro put on extra people this week and has been concentrating on their efforts and production in putting the system back in working order.

The section of North Beach Boulevard between U. S. 90 and Bay View Court, which was blocked for safety when the water line was broken, has now been opened to one-way traffic. The trouble there was that a manhole cover was the wrong size and a new one had to be forged at the factory.

Street repairs will start just as soon as the water and sewer contractors finish all their work—sewer, sewer and water tie-ins and anything that will cause more holes.

Glover emphasized there is absolutely no point in spending money to fix any surface until the city is assured the contractors will not need to return for any last-minute work.

Meanwhile the city's $60,000 bond issue for supplies to the contractor was validated last Friday and the funds should be forthcoming shortly.

Street repair

Lack money for municipal pier, Glover claims

There'll be no new municipal pier this year for Bay St. Louis.

The city simply doesn't have the money, Commissioner J. Cyril Glover explained Wednesday.

Both the piers at the head of Ulman Avenue and at Cedar Point were washed away in Hurricane Betsy last fall. Because of their recreational nature, federal disaster relief funds could not be secured to replace them, Glover said he had been informed.

The city now levies one-half mill for its parks and playgrounds fund, its only source of revenue now that parking meters have been discontinued in the downtown area.

Replacement of the two piers was estimated by Glover at about $25,000. He said Mrs. Theo Tillery, before the replacement of city recreational director this spring, had sought estimates on rebuilding at least one pier but had not been able to secure any price the city could afford.

If the cities expand and take the cream of the business it will put an entirely different light on the situation, Mills said. We are not sure what we are going to do with the services allocated to us but our early project is under way.

On $103,333 was spent 4 where the new total is $160,466. Heitzenreiter noted that half of the $77,000 for which T. L. James Co. was assessed the previous year was in Back 1. James was building the new R. R. 43 and had wound up the project and moved out the equipment.

Back 2 was another big player, going up $344,139 to a new total of $740,720. This is because MTF offices are located within the back's boundaries and International Business Machines has a $40,620 assessment on its new office equipment and Xerox has $45,772. These two amount to $184,400 alone. The assessment on personal property in Back 2 is $357,200. The assessment on personal property in Back 3 is $357,200. In '65 it was $24,700.

A slender gain was registered in Back 7a, total. It's now $437,320 up $5,000.

The departure of the big MTF customers accounted for the dip in the personal property figures. Against $1,026,100 for last year, it is now $1,020,454. Backing the Back 2 figure, Back 1 shows $644,011, Back 3 has $9,930, Back 4 runs to $18,405 and Back 5 tops the list with $419,454.

Heitzenreiter noted that the old Tampa Oil Co. came off the personal property books to the tune of $33,650 in Back 1 and $9,310 in 2 when it was acquired by United Gas Corp. Presumably the public utility assessment will pick this up. This alone, he said, would more than care for the personal property decline.

Progress appears good for a slender bite in the public utility assessment because, although Gas' contribution to the total through the County by Tennessee Gas Transmission Pipeline Co., those figures come from Jackson M. Hill. Coupled with one fact, they complete the assessment books for the County.

Elizabeth Carbonette is bride of John Favre, Jr.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Carbonette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Carbonette of 307 Washington St., to John L. Favre, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Favre of 344 St. George St., was celebrated at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at Our Lady of the Gulf Church.

The bride was escorted to the church by her father where Rev. Denis Harboe performed the wedding ceremony.

Mr. John Harboe was master of honor for the bride, and Henry Favre, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were William D. Carbonette, brother of the bride, and Clayton E. Thomas, brother-in-law of the groom.

A reception followed at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Attending with the bride were Mamie Diane King and Shirley T. Tamm, and Mrs. William Carl, mother-in-law of the bride.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Quinlan, Michael Quinlan, Memphis Johnson, Jim May, all of New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Chapman, and Mr. and Mrs. Martha Smith of Galt, Calif.; Mrs. M. O. Kilday of Kansas City, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tolka of Peccay, Mo.

Both are graduates from Ray High School. The bride is coming from a three-year service at Disney Jungle. Mr. Favre works at Moyer's Service Station.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Kansas City, Mo., they will reside at 122, Box 40, Bay St. Louis.

Sue Scott seeks

$50,000 judgment

A $20,000 damage suit has been filed in U.S. District Court at Biloxi by Mary Sue Scott of Bay St. Louis against Ryne Truck Lines, Inc., of Miami, Fla., and Samuel Durbin of Tampa, Fla., for injuries suffered in an accident May 27, 1965.

The plaintiff was riding in a car operated by her brother when the accident occurred at U.S. 90 and 57th Avenue in Gulfport. Durbin was driving a truck owned by the defendant company.

Each month was fined as the regular meeting time with the exception to be at 7:30 p.m. July 25 in the following Hall of Champions Harbor Methodist Church.

A planning program being initiated for the region. He will be engaged as a consultant to the Commission.

Other factors involved are determining regional goals and objectives, policy, preparing planning programs to implement such policy, providing information and programs to improve public and private decision making and establishing methods and organizational devices for coordinating development policies and activities.

The Commission also approved a resolution creating the citizens regional advisory committee, accepted an amendment to the by laws to allow the use of various proxy votes in the accomplishment of a program, provided the operating budget, and agreed to consider changing the meeting date to eliminate a conflict with the Mississippi Highway Department.

Jack Davis of the Mississippi Research and Development Center spoke briefly on the progress being made in developing a state recreation plan, and introduced new member of the R & D board, John King.

Discussion regarding an area recreation indicated final action on the planning grant already approved by the Department of Housing and Urban

At Jackson meet

Landon leads list of swim meet medalists

David Landon, of the Bay St. Louis swimming team, was three trophies and was number one of the eight-year-old and under relay team which helped a Bay St. Louis team to win the Jackson Invitational Swim Tournament at River Mill Club, Jackson.

The team, composed of Landon, Mark Walsh, Greg Polden and Miles Wimard, won the 100 yard free style relay race, placing a team of one under 10 and one over.

Landon also placed second in the individual 25-yard free style, third in the 50-yard backstroke and fourth in the 50-yard breast stroke.

The Tarponers, coached by Mr. P. E. Porter, Jr. and Fred Wagner, finished seventh in a field of 13 although entered in less than half the events. Scoring was on a point basis, giving clubs with more entries an edge. Twenty-eight swimmers started from here while Hattiesburg, winner of the meet with 563.5 points, had more than 90 entries, transporting them in chartered bus.

Finishing in the order given were Hattiesburg, Jackson, Greenwood, New Orleans, Central, Meridian, Bay St. Louis, Vicksburg, Clinton, Natchez, Picayune, Greenvale and Lynn Park of Kemper, La.

This Friday and Saturday the local aquatic stars travel to Pensacola where they will compete with about 1,000 swimmers in the 10 through 17 year age bracket from Alabama, Florida, Louisiana and Mississippi in the annual Junior Olympic Meet.

Other local swimmers who reached the finals in the Jackson meet were, eight-year-olds, Andie Anderson, third, 50-yard butterfly and tied for fourth, 25-yard free; Prima Lula, ninth, 50-yard breast stroke; Walsh, third, 25-yard free style; Greg Polden, 25-yard free and 50-yard backstroke; Wimard, third, 50-yard breast and fifth, 25-yard free; Mike Phillips, 50-yard butterfly and third, 50-yard free; Carl Phillips, third, 50-yard free, fifth, 50-yard back.

Nine and 10-year-olds, Ed Porter, fourth, 50-yard free; Pat Anderson, 50-yard fly; Ed, fifth, 50-yard back; Ed, 100-yard fly; Stephen Byrnes, third, 100-yard fly, 50-yard free and 100-yard butterfly; Noel Phillips, fourth, 100-yard free and 100-yard back; Jim Pendergast, 100-yard free; Ed, Newy McDonald, 50 and 100-yard free, and 100-yard back.

The 11-12 year-olds' relay team, composed of Stephen Byrnes, John and Charles Langston, and Tom Landon was third in the finale of the 200-
